This cohort will be participating in two convenings and eight webinars that focus on developing skills in financial and nonprofit management, organizational and board development, fundraising and grant writing, and communications. An important aspect of the cohort model and an intention of this program is peer knowledge sharing and developing or strengthening relationships with other nonprofits. Tachini Pete and Maria Griffin look forward to meeting and working with everyone in the coming months.

Spring and Fall Cycle Update

Sine 2005, and with the help of many generous partners and donors, Potlatch Fund has provided over $1,800,000 in funding to Native initiative throught the Pacific Northwest.

Potlatch Fund is excited to share that in 2015, we will grant out more than $240,000 to support Native-led initiatives in the Pacific Northwest!

Community Building Whether residing on a rural reservation or within a large metropolitan area, nurturing a sense of community to essential to Native people. We support community projects or programs that impart values, histories, and knowledge across generations to make our communities stronger and healthier. We are particularly interested in supporting initiatives that address the root causes of social, economic, racial, or environmental injustice in Northwest Native communities. This year funding priority will be given to community projects or programs that provide leadership opportunities for Native youth.

Native Arts Native art has always been integral to every aspect of tribal life. In tribal culture, art is not separate from everyday life, but rather art is the center of tribal life and everyday objects and tools are decorated beautifully with designs that perpetuate tribal identity, culture, and knowledge. This year funding priority will be given to projects from individual Native artists, Native arts organizations, or Tribal museums who are working to revitalize endangered Native art forms, practices, and knowledge through intergenerational opportunities that transfer knowledge from elders and cultural retainers to a new generation.

Language Preservation and Education With the help of an anonymous donor we are excited to offer this grant cycle in support of language preservation and documentation efforts, educational enrichment and after school Native youth programming, and the professional development of Native educators. This initiative is important because we know that Native languages provide connections to our culture, history, and traditions and yet, with only limited numbers of fluent speakers, too many of our communities are at risk of losing their language. This grant fund also supports the advancement of Native educators and Native youth programming to foster the inclusion of cultural identities in educational environments.

Please join us on March 12 and 13, 2015 to celebrate the Grand Opening of Phase One of the University of Washington's new w Ƨ bʔaltx™ (Intellectual House)! March 12th will be the Open House and Ribbon-Cutting Ceremony. March 13th will be a full day event where we will share stories, songs, laughter and friendship. Food and beverages will be served throughout the day.

We come together to commemorate a 45+ year dream to build an intellectual and cultural space on campus that acknowledges the importance of Native cultures and histories and honors Coast Salish architectural traditions. The w Ƨ bʔaltx™ will be a place where we can learn and share our knowledge with one another while working to strengthen the successes of our UW Native students.

We welcome all tribes to come and share their songs and dances with us on March 13th. Please contact Dr. Charlotte Coté at clotise@uw.edu or (206) 221-6549 for more information.
