

Potlatch Fund

To inspire and build upon the Native tradition of giving and to expand philanthropy within Tribal Nations and Native Communities in the Northwest

We have great news to share!

Mark your calendar because this Thursday, June 23 there's an exciting event that will amplify the impact of your gift to Potlatch Fund.

GiveBIG is a community-wide giving challenge created by The Seattle Foundation that will increase the size of your donation to Potlatch Fund. This new, one-day, online charitable giving event will rally together our community on behalf of the amazing nonprofit organizations in King County.

GiveBIG will grow your generosity in several ways:

- Grow your gift! The Seattle Foundation and local businesses will match a share of every contribution made through The Seattle Foundation's online Giving Center between 7 a.m. and midnight only on June 23.
- Win a Golden Ticket! During the day, you could be chosen at random to have your charity of choice — POTLATCH FUND — receive an additional $1,000 from GiveBIG's sponsors.

To serve the needs of our Native communities, Potlatch Fund endeavors to build the capacity of Tribal institutions and leadership, to bring new philanthropic resources to these communities, and to administer direct grantmaking programs to benefit our people.

Despite the vast cultural wealth held by Native Americans, our communities continue to be under-resourced and under-served at all levels, from education to the arts, from social services to basic community infrastructure.

In other communities, the philanthropic sector—with its many private, corporate, family and community foundations—serves the invaluable role of using its resources to address such disparities.

These resources have yet to reach Indian Country. With your generous support Potlatch Fund will change these trends.
